Psychotronic Hostages

Psychotronic Hostages

The United State’s secret EEG heterodyned, psychotronic, mind control prisons hold many people hostage in this country and around the world, some politically motivated while others appear to be random experimentation. Shocking as this may be, you must remember we are a hypocrisy not a democracy. We use the most anti¬ democratic methods to intimidate, overthrow, and control other countries. The Army was recently ousted for putting false articles and news reports in Iraqi information streams for example. From my research, there is more information warfare directed at the citizens of the United States than abroad.

After being awoken from the American Dream into the ugly reality of brutality, lies, and mind control so overtly and routinely practiced, I can't watch the news on television without feeling nauseous. I take tens of calls a day and answer countless emails from victims being brutalized by these weapons daily, then I see a report of a cat stuck in the tree which a fireman had to rescue. The absurdity of what is considered important enough to report on the mass media terrifies those who know what's really going on. When did we lose control of the free press? How are politician kept in the dark of this military coup? Why can't they pass simple updated laws to at least openly protect citizens from the psychotronic massacre?

Another method of covering up top secret technology and its abuses: I found while digging through the archives of DARPA, CIA, and DoD funded research, technologies that I worked on decades ago are still being funded today to look as though no progress has been made.

Why hasn't the weapon been more widely used for war?

It doesn't have the success rate needed to be reliably used for war in place of ground troops. It probably is being used as a supplement. According to European Parliament documents it was used in Desert Storm to fatigue and demoralize troops.

Also, if it were successfully used in war once, countries would invest more into anti- psychotronic defenses. So it is considered more valuable as a political dissident silencing, spying, espionage, and silent assassination tool.

I don't believe brain waves can be read by Satellites. How can you prove this?

It can be done by “over the horizon” radar bouncing their signals off the ionosphere as well as by satellites. HAARP and the Puerto Rico ionospheric heaters are examples of these ground based high powered phased arrays. Satellites could make it a truly global system.

A couple simple mathematical calculations can demonstrate it. First, take the resolution of the Hubble Space telescope or large radio earth based telescopes and calculate the sensitivity. Secondly, you must consider active scanning techniques which increase the signal to noise ratio tremendously, such as electron spin resonance and scatter stealth radar techniques. Thirdly, compare the sensitivity of SQIDs (super conducting quantum interference devices) with an electrically resonating biotelemetric antenna with modulated body electricity in it viewed from a low earth orbit of 1000 miles. It is within many orders of magnitude capable of detecting the signal especially if the exact location were known. However that is not what they are doing. They are using high powered nearly perfectly destructive interfering EM waves which reflect or scatter with intense power levels back to their sources without burning the area of interest and without losing much of the signal to noise ratio from the absorption, scatter, transmittance, and reflectance energies. Lastly, look at the military research and patent files to find many published articles about reading heart and respiratory signals at a large distance. NASA even offered to build brain printing technology for airport security. The void of research at reading brainwaves without EEG probes should tell you something. Do an internet search on mind control. Explain the amount of disinformation, misinformation, and general discussion around this topic if it can't be done. Explain why a very successful microwave antenna military subcontractor has a patent from the 1970s that claim brain reading and control. Explain why documents released through the Freedom of Information Act by the CIA, openly discusses research on a project called RHIC (remote hypnotic inter-cerebral control) using the same techniques. Clearly, this is such an important scientific discovery for weapons, spying, and espionage that much neurological data and research has been buried under the guise of national security bullshit.

Even if you could read brain signals, how can you influence the nervous system?

The reverse process is true. Have you ever tried a TENS or muscle stimulator that contracts your muscles by pulsating a 70v small amperage current through the area. The brain works on ionic electric currents too. Have you noticed that your cell phone sometimes causes audio experiment nearby to chirp right before you get a phone call? Microwave directed energy weapons are being developed to knock out and fry any electrical component not properly shielded. EMP(electromagnetic pulse) weapons can stall car engines, stop or cause bombs to detonate, and cause brain currents to misfire. Absorption of EM energy at specific resonance frequencies have been show to cause neurotransmitter release in neurons when absorbed by the brain. Even low intensity magnetic fields have been shown to create currents in the brain or alter brain activity. The bioelectric and electromagnetic biochemistry mechanisms are too numerous to list.

OK, so the physics is sound. One could read and influence brain waves perhaps by terrestrial antennas or satellites, but how can you heterodyne different brain waves? Everybody is different.

Everybody is a little different, a normal distribution around some average model. Deciphering a person's brain waves and mapping them to subjective experience is what has already been done. Because this idea is so disconcerting to many people, it might be considered dangerous knowledge for a population which would start questioning their religious, philosophical, and moral beliefs. Nobody wants their soul to be reduced to an electrical signal. The Army published some documents showing how they mapped out the sensory pathways as an example. A project which I believe is to mislead the public on the current state of technology is called the Human Cognome Project which has similar goals to the Human Genome Project.

Very briefly, there is software that auto-correlates the brain patterns of individuals in a system called TAMI (Thought And Memory Interface).

That's incredible. But why would a government torture their own citizens?

Psychotronic Hostages

The United States has a long ugly history of doing this. There are massive cover- ups and barely a mention in the news when the programs are discovered. The same weapons testing programs continue, often under new funding and a different name. There is almost no oversight for top secret programs. Virtual human dissections of random citizens has been occurring since the inception of the CIA and definitely just after WWII and project paper clip where many Nazi scientists were excused for their war crimes and sheltered by the DoD.

How can we fix our broken government and stop those dishonorable men and women who are abusing the public trusts and funds?

The most difficult hurdle for us is the seemingly apathetic, self centered, near sighted mentality of the general public. Getting people to care what is happening to their future and country is difficult when you don't have control of the main media outlets. Grass roots effort at educating the public until a critical mass of awareness is reached will be the only way to pressure lasting changes and protections. There have been many violent acts misdirected to the wrong branches of government by these mind controlled torture victims but they are written off in the news as random acts of madmen and extremists. Publicly shaming the perpetrators and culprits will set a precedence. Trying to recruit the help of other countries to pressure the United States to free its psychotronic hostages would help. Get academic intuitions and other governments to discuss their psychotronic research openly. The United States is the only major country not to sign international treaties to ban the use of these weapons, clearly because they enjoy torturing their own population too much. Even Russia tried to get these weapons banned at a UN conference and the United States refused.

I can't believe such important scientific discoveries are horded by the killing machine. Didn't they weigh the benefits of all the lives this technology would save against the potential use for killing many more?

Apparently, Defense is not about saving lives, it's about killing other people more efficiently. They don't get metals or more power by saving American lives through technological discovers, they get more power by instigating wars and killing effectively. They are selfish, sub optimal decision makers. Clearly there is a problem with intellectual meritocracy in the culturally unevolving military upper ranks since they were raised with good old fashioned fascism.

What makes it so difficult to get the attention of the world on such an immediately important issue?

Good question. The media refuses to cover it, either because they have been instructed to or they have succumbed to the decades of brainwashing which states that if anyone claims that they have symptoms of psychotronic weapons that they are crazy. It is too controversial a topic and they are afraid of military reprisals may be the other reason. The psychological programming of the populous is extensive. At last count, I found over 100 movies and TV shows that make fictional references to mind reading and influencing technology. It has become common sense fiction in most people’s minds. Also, we tend to trust and believe Washington D.C. spokespeople, but know they lie all the time. Porter Goss has come out saying that they don’t torture people. I know this to be a lie, yet he sounds so sincere when he is quoted in the papers or on TV. Like quantum theory and relativity, the physics is just not intuitive, so it is easy to believe that time is constant, the earth is flat, and mind reading radar is impossible.

Stupid Alien Tricks

I acquired two new abilities with the government neural link experiments conducted on me for the entire spooky year, Oct 31, 2004-Oct 31,2005.1 became a human compass. By minimizing the pain I felt through aligning my arms stretched out with the Earth’s magnetic lines of force, I would always point in a North/South direction. I carried a compass with me everywhere, and liked to demonstrate my stupid alien trick to anyone with whom I felt like striking up a conversation. The other capability I acquired was the ability to tell time down to the minute without a watch. It was a game that I played with the operators to whom I was EEG heterodyned. They would accurately tell me the time whenever I asked. This really impressed a couple people. They had no idea how I could point to North/South after being spun around with my eyes closed or tell the precise time whenever they wanted. A couple people bought me a beer for the bar tricks. I never told them how it was done for obvious reasons. Since the physical torture stopped, I haven’t been able to perform either trick again.

But, the human compass capability does point out a potential weakness in the weapons system. If they are using linearly polarized electromagnetic waves for the Scalar Radar energy or ESR,MRI magnetic fields, the target object may disappear or the neural link signal weaken when aligned with the Earth’s magnetic or the Scalar Radar electromagnetic fields.

Silencing security leaks, whistle blowers, political activists, and hindering scientific discovery

Psychotronics is a very covert way to take out perceived problems for particular interests in the government. Rather than openly assassinate people or harbor political prisoners as in other communist countries, the U.S. prefers this slyer method. Just as with torture without physical evidence (termed soft torture), it quietly and effectively does the trick.

Coal miners used as slaves were hobbled by breaking of their ankles to keep them from running away and demonstrated in the movie,“Misery”. Brain hobbling through psychotronics is done today in an analogous fashion. By using psychotronic generators to inject minute random currents into the targeted brain, a threat will exhibit schizophrenic thinking and can be thrown into a mental hospital where further silencing can occur without their consent. Neural scientists are closely watched and any who get to close to rediscovering the government's mind control technology can be mentally hobbled to prevent further discovery. Without visible political prisons and torture scars, the public will remain discredulous that it is being done. It is all about plausible denial. We surely are more civilized than the medieval kings with their large torture chambers. Everything is just invisible now, but the same brutal, unevolved people run them.

Plead to the Reader

Once again, I need to reiterate my credibility since the programming of the masses has taken place over so many years with such great influence. I have everything to lose by divulging these secrets of the government. I was earning $140,000 average pay in Silicon Valley before I morally felt obligated to disrupt their lies through my public voice by taking two years off and writing this book. Truth is not so terrible once you accept it. Only with truth can we triangulate on a better future and hold those erroneous thinkers accountable for their beyond-top-secret decisions that we, their employers, need to responsibly make in order to further efficiency, progress, and change in the DoD and in politics that have allowed for the random selection of humans for their trite experiments for over 30+ years. They will take our money on a boondoggle to employ endless projects that they declare for national security, killing millions by their withholding of technology and secrets. Power is addictive when you have no true value.

I will use harsh words here to once more plead to the American public to investigate this issue independent of the corrupt chain of command. There is nothing that I despise more than corruption! The CIA's motto is “Yea, shall know the truth, and the truth shall set you free.” Crock of shit. They are tasked with suppressing truth. And Porter Goss who is an alumni from my private school was suppose to bring justice, freedom, and truth to the American people, but instead he has fallen prey to the business as usual fowl element of criminals that make up the house of ill deceit. The CIA needs to be disbanded of its criminal elements. What have they done for us? They knew about 9/11 but decided not to prevent it. They have tortured and killed more Americans in their declassified top secret programs than any terrorist group in history. But we chose to ignore it. We prefer delusion over truth. It is simply more pleasing for most people to believe their government is not corrupt and we are morally justified in “policing”, not occupying, 135 nations on Earth where we have troops stationed. There are only 55 nations that we haven’t taken over. This is the wake up call. If you chose to ignore it, history will not be your savior. You were told and you chose not to voice or act in the best interest of your fellow humans. You will be on the wrong side of history.

George Bush is a puppet leader or a criminal. Those are the only two choices.

Type “miserable failure” into Google to get his biography. The disinformers found they can not control the internet for leaks but they can flood it with disinformation 1. So you need to dig deep and remember the formula that I described for their disinformation tactics.

Think what the United States has done - true global tyranny with satellite and over the horizon radar based neurological weapons. There is no sanctuary on Earth that one can just say, I give up, I will leave and be done with you. You will be tortured til the end of the Earth by which ever corrupt General, Colonel, or CIA director decides your fate. Are you scared yet! You are just beginning to understand the situation the people of Earth are faced with. Cope with the ugliness of the truth for which we work and maybe we can fix it if it isn't too late. Or maybe you will decide that you don't care about truth, reality, as long as you can be lead to believe that your small universe and fragile house of cards belief system is enough to keep you happy. You should stop reading this book now in that case. I am a habitual truth teller, insensitive and direct. My DoD torturers said to me at the beginning of my year long journey into hell,” You know too much. We must kill you.“ You get the benefit of my life learnings of knowing too much without the threat of death. Well worth your $20 bucks or so to buy this book wouldn't you say?

“The madness of this world has lulled the masses into a slumber. Wake up! An eye is upon you. An eye ready to blink. So, face forward with arms wide open and minds reeling. Your future has arrived.” - unknown author
